

CURRICULUM VITAE

I. Personal Data

Name: James David Woodard
Address: Political Science Dept. 111 Hickory Ridge Road
Clemson, SC 29634 Central, SC 29630
230B Brackett Hall (864) 653-3608
Telephone: (864) 656-3551
Married: two children

II. Background

A. Academic Training:

B.S. Ed., Abilene Christian College, 1965-1970
M.A., The American University, 1971-1973
Ph.D., Vanderbilt University, 1973-1978

B. Employment History:

August, 1978 – March, 1980 Assistant Professor, Auburn University
August, 1983 – present Professor of Political Science, Clemson University
August, 2003 – June, 2004 Visiting Professor, Vanderbilt University

III. Instructional Responsibilities

A. Southern Politics, American Politics, Public Administration, Classical Political Thought, Modern Political Thought, Mass Media and American Politics, Parties and Elections.

IV. Research and Creative Endeavors

A. Books:

- J. David Woodard and Richard A. Pride, The Burden of Busing. Knoxville, Tenn.: University of Tennessee Press, 1985, (296 pages).
- J. David Woodard and Charles W. Dunn, The Conservative Tradition in America. Washington, D.C.: Rowman & Littlefield, 1996, (199 pages). 2nd Edition, 2002.
- J. David Woodard, The New Southern Politics. Boulder, Colorado: Lynne Rienner Press, 2006, (445 pages).
- J. David Woodard, The America That Reagan Built. Westport, Ct.: Praeger/Greenwood, 2006, (450 pages). Set for release on June 30, 2006.
- J. David Woodard and Jim DeMint, Why We Whsper. Landover, Md. Rowman & Littlefield. (January, 2008).
- J. David Woodard, A House Divided: Red and Blue Partisanship in American Elections. Boulder, Colorado: Lynne Rienner, (under contract: delivery fall, 2008).
- J. David Woodard, The Rise of the Values Voters. Petersborough, Ontario: Broadview Press, (under contract: delivery late 2008 or early 2009).

B. Chapters in Books:

- J. David Woodard and Charles W. Dunn, "Ronald Reagan as Party Leader" in The Reagan Presidency by Raymond Moore (ed.) (London: MacMillan and Co., 1989), p. 115-131.
- J. David Woodard, "The Race for the Presidency: Evening News Coverage of Elections," in Bruce Gronbeck and Arthur Miller (eds.) Political Campaigns and American Self-Images. Westview Press, Spring, 1993.

C. Journal Articles:

- J. David Woodard and J. Houston Gordon, "Congressional Reapportionment: The Pandora's Box on Judicial Intervention in Politics and How to Put the Lid Back On", Memphis State Law Review, Volume 6, No. 3, Spring, 1976, pp. 403-420.
- J. David Woodard, "The City Manager's Code of Ethics," The Bureaucrat, Spring, 1984, (Vol. 12, No. 3). Reprinted: Dushkin Publishing, Annual Editions: State and Local Government, third ed., 1987, pp. 135-140.
- J. David Woodard and Stephen H. Wainscott, "School Finance and School Desegregation: Ten Year Effects in Southern School Districts." Social Science Quarterly, (Vol. 67, No. 3), September, 1986, pp. 587-595.
- J. David Woodard and Stephen H. Wainscott, "Second Thoughts on Second Generation Discrimination," American Politics Quarterly, (Vol. 16, No. 2) April 1988, pp.171-192.
- J. David Woodard, "Taming the Watchdog: The City Manager and the Press," Forum, The University of South Carolina, Vol. 1, No. 3, Fall, 1990.
- J. David Woodard, Cary Covington, Kent Kroeger, Glenn Richardson, "Shaping a Candidate's Image in the Press: Ronald Reagan and the 1980 Election," Western Politics Quarterly, Vol. 50, 1994.
- J. David Woodard, "Television and Presidential Politics, Strom Thurmond and George Wallace," in the Encyclopedia of the American Presidency, (eds.) Leonard Levy and Louis Fisher, Simon & Schuster, 1994.
- J. David Woodard, "Ronald Reagan," "The Presbyterian Church in America," and "Conservatism" in the Encyclopedia of American Politics and Religion (eds.) Paul A. Djupe and Laura Olson, Facts on File, 2003.
- J. David Woodard, "The Republican Party," "Conservatism," in Encyclopedia of American Parties and Politics. (eds.) Larry J. Sabato, et.al., 2004.

Articles in WORLD magazine, FIRST THINGS and THE CHRISTIAN CENTURY and related publications. Also a blogger on WhyWeWhisper.com, as well as other media blogs.

VI. Honors

- 1991 Alumni Master Teacher Award: Cash award given annually at May graduation
1991 Obermann Fellowship, Center for Advanced Study, University of Iowa
1991 Omicron Delta Kappa
1992 Mortarboard (first campus faculty inductee)
1993 Golden Key (faculty honoree)
1998 Fluror-Daniel Award for Excellence in Teaching
2001 Charles W. Dunn Advising Award

VII. David Woodard serves as a political consultant for Republican candidates: Successful clients include: Bob Inglis for Congress, 1992; Lindsey Graham for Congress, 1994 and 1996; Jim DeMint for Congress, 1998; Bob Peeler for Lt. Governor, 1994; Bob Inglis for Senate, 1998; and George W. Bush for President in 2000, Gresham Barrett for Congress, 2002.